

THE HEARTACHE WE MUST ENDURE

MY ANGUISH OF SEPARATION

Mihir Bose's tale of a Panama hat, mouldy rice and migration

We hear the words “migration” and “immigration” all the time, but what is it like to go through the process of migration? Mihir Bose shares his personal story of leaving India for the West as a young man to satisfy his work aspirations. His intimate tale allows an insight into an aspect rarely discussed in the media; a close-up view of the effects of separating from the expectations of family and tradition.

With music by Lola Perrin with guest vocalist Y Yadavan

Plus, silent films by international filmmakers accompanied by Lola's piano

Time: 8pm, Saturday 21 May 2011

Venue: Rich Mix, 35 - 47 Bethnal Green Road, London, E1 6LA

Tickets: £7 (advance), £10 (on the door)

Book online at www.richmix.org.uk

or call the box office on 0207 613 7498